“Working the Land” Seminar

09.30 for 10.00 Saturday 24th February 2024

Most of us will have found those ubiquitous ‘Ag Labs’ in our ancestry - but what did this term mean as there are a host of occupations connected with the land? This seminar aims to look at how working on the land affected many aspects of a person’s life depending on their status and situation. It will also look at the types of records that may be available to help in the research for your one-name study.
